Mosquito Control

HELPFUL TIPS & RESOURCES

Personal Protection

By adjusting your habits, you can limit mosquito populations and protect yourself and your community from Mosquito-borne diseases. Small actions like dumping standing water, filling in potholes, and regularly trimming shrubbery can help thwart mosquito breeding and prevent the spread of diseases like Zika, Dengue, and Yellow Fever.

Agricultural Tips

Mosquitoes aren't just a nuisance—and danger—to humans, they may also have a negative impact on farming and agriculture. In fact, many harmful mosquito-borne diseases can be transmitted to animals, including West Nile Virus and Eastern Equine Encephalitis.

Pesticide Information

It's common to pair proactive mosquito control techniques with other effective strategies. Larvicides and adulticides are frequently applied as part of an integrated management approach that impedes mosquitoes during all stages of the life cycle. These EPA-registered products work to safely target mosquitoes while preserving the health of the surrounding ecosystem and community.

To help with Mosquito Control in the community, follow this prevention checklist:

Mosquito Prevention Checklist:

FOR YOU:

- Use EPA-approved repellents on skin and clothing (always follow product label directions for use).
- Wear long sleeve shirts and long pants that are loose fitting for extra protection.
- If you are outdoors at dusk and dawn, when many mosquito species are most active, protect yourself.
- Encourage friends, family, and neighbors to follow these recommendations also.

FOR YOUR LAWN:

- Keep grass cut and shrubbery trimmed near the house where adult mosquitoes may rest.
- Water lawns and gardens carefully to prevent water from standing for more than five days.
- Keep drains, ditches, and culverts clean of weeds and trash so water can flow properly.
- Fill in, or drain, low spots (puddles, ruts, etc.) in the yard where water collects.
- Fill in tree holes and hollow stumps that hold water with sand or concrete.
- Stock ornamental pools with top feeding predacious fish species such as minnows.

FOR YOUR RESIDENCE:

- Clean debris from rain gutters to allow proper drainage.
- Check around outdoor faucets and air conditioner units and repair leaks or puddles.
- Check window and door screens to ensure they are in good condition and seal tightly.
- Eliminate seepage from cisterns, cesspools, and septic tanks.

FOR YOUR OUTDOOR RECREATIONAL EQUIPMENT AND CHILDREN'S TOYS:

- Canoes and Boats: Store small boats upside down. Cover large boats tightly.
- Make sure that coverings (boats, pools, compost piles, etc.) are pulled tight and sloped to allow water to drain.
- Empty plastic wading pools at least once per week and store indoors when not in use.
- Make sure your backyard pool is properly cared for while away from the home.
- Drill holes in the bottom of tire swings to allow any water to drain.

FOR YOUR UTILITY AND DECORATIVE CONTAINERS:

- Cover trash and recycling containers to keep out rainwater.
- Dispose of old tires, cans, buckets, bottles, or any other water holding containers.
- Change the water in pet bowls, birdbaths, plant pots or drip trays at least once per week.

Highlighting Local Business

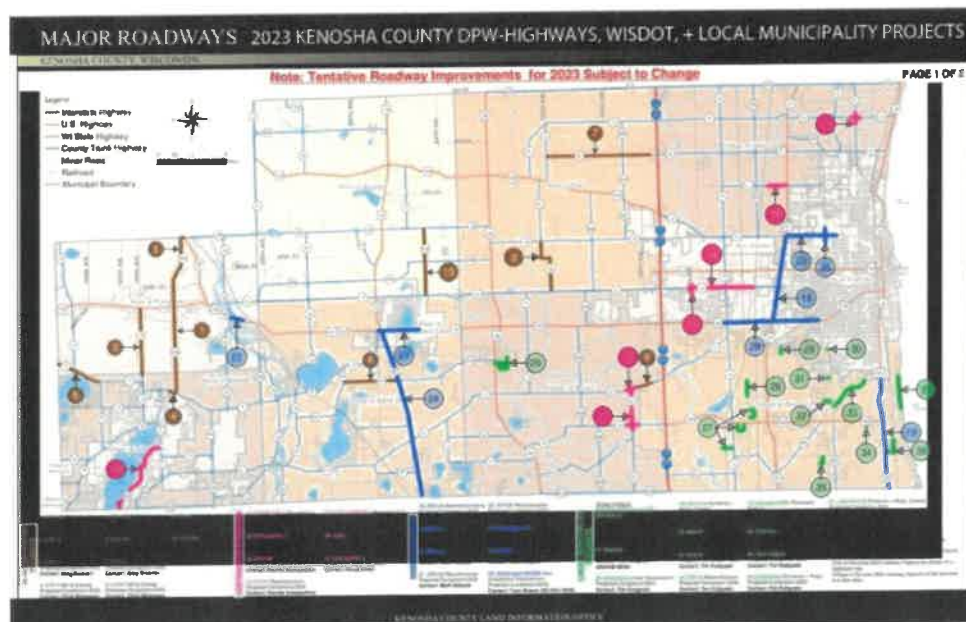

Built in 1889, this remodeled schoolhouse brings back many memories. Formally known as Pikeville School, it was remodeled back in 1983 when it was moved about 100 feet northwest from its original location. The School closed in 1962, in 1963 the district was consolidated into Bristol Unified District. Then, in May of 1970, the school was transformed into a restaurant.

Red School Café has been serving the Bristol, WI community as a Restaurant for 52 years this May! They take pride in their homecooked meals & chalkboard menu specials. They like simple homemade comfort food, even their bread is made homemade! Red School Café's staff are top notch and you'll feel at home from the second you step inside!

The new menu is printed on chalkboard paper and the chalkboard décor is used to advertise our specials! Step back into time when you come visit Red School Café.
